LIVING TEUTON WALLS RENT BY BIG GUNS

GERMANY'S THOUSANDS ARE CUT TO BITS

Tremendous Massed Attacks Of Germans Repulsed By Allied Fire

HAIG MEN PLUNGE ON IN APPALLING BATTLE

Giant Rushes On French Line Are Hurdled Back By Nivelle Troops

LONDON, April 26.—Complete repulse of a violent massed counter-attack by German forces against new British positions around Gavrelle was announced in Field Marshal Haig's official statement today.

"Early at night the enemy again endeavored to attack our new positions at Gavrelle," he said. "His troops were caught in our artillery barrage and completely repulsed."

Germany is now suffering her most appalling losses of the war in the desperate endeavors of her army staff to stop the British drive by sheer weight of human masses opposing it. North of the Scarpe river today, where the British fought ahead almost inch by inch in the face of great masses of men, the carnage was greater than that suffered by the enemy since the war started.

Front dispatches today carried the idea that the Germans, realizing no trench works could stand against the leveling fire of the British artillery, were seeking to make a wall of living human beings against the advance. Into the closely packed troops opposing, the British fire did terrific work. Thousands of mangled bodies are flung over the battle field along the Scarpe, mostly Germans. The British losses have been exceedingly low, considering the ferocity of the fighting.

That the terrible mortality of the German troops is undermining their morale is apparent by statements of prisoners. The German troops—all of them picked divisions—are literally driven into the fighting line now. Those who survive the deadly accuracy of the British artillery fire and the pounding of the British infantry attacks are exceedingly glad to be taken prisoner.

Today it appeared that the British and the enemy were deadlocked to the north of the Scarpe. The drive toward Douai along this line was being opposed with the Germans' every resource. To the south, however, the British pressure could not be resisted and they were slowly moving forward.

PARIS, April 26.—Two tremendous German attacks made on a front of more than a mile and a half west of Cerny, were smashed unavailingly against French lines and repulsed amid heavy losses to the enemy, today's French official statement declared.

Powerful German counter attacks at two other places on the French front were likewise repulsed.

The war office statement indicated that all along the French front the Germans were making violent attempts to loose the grip of French troops on their new positions. Some bitter fighting was reported from half a dozen different points.

"On the shores of the Oise," the statement said, "a German patrol was easily repulsed."

"North of the Aisne several German attempts to effect our troops from the plateau of the Ladies highway were repulsed."

"Two powerful attacks on a front of two kilometers west of Cerny were smashed on the French lines, the Germans losing heavily. One other attempt at Hurtelise farm also failed."

In the Champagne, in the region of Pompele, in front of Nevaria and Tahure, several German attacks only resulted in our capture of prisoners."

LIEUT. COL. O. W. FARR IS NAMED OFFICERS' SCHOOL COMMANDANT
SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Lieut. Col. Otto W. Farr, seventh field artillery, was named today commandant of the officers' reserve corps training school to be held at the Presidio beginning May 8. Lieut. Col. F. W. Sladen will be senior instructor.

EARLY PEACE HOPED FOR IN REICHSTAG WIRE TO SOLDIERS

AMSTERDAM, Apr. 26.—Thanks to the heroes of Arras and the Aisne and hope of an early peace was expressed in a telegram sent by the main Reichstag committee today to Field Marshal Hindenburg.

Dispatches from Berlin, said the message, promised the entire German people would devote all their strength to the country's defense until peace comes—which they hoped would be soon.

TEUTON DIVER'S SHELLS SINK YANKEE SHIP

Firing Without Warning and Goes On As Crew Takes to Boats

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The American schooner Percy Birdsall was sunk by submarine gunfire, according to a state department announcement today. The crew was rescued by a patrol boat soon after the attack.

Nine or ten shots were fired, seven of which struck the vessel. Most of the hits were below the water line. Firing was without warning and continued while the crew took to the boats.

The Percy Birdsall was a wooden four-masted schooner of 1123 tons, registered at Perth Amboy, N. J. She was owned by J. Holmes and was built in 1890.

SINKING OF DIVER BY U. S. SHIP SCOUTED

LONDON, April 26.—Whether the American submarine liner Mongolia sank a German submarine April 19 rested today upon belief of her captain and the navy lieutenant in charge of her gun crew that from a point 1000 yards distant they had seen pieces of the U-boat's periscope fly into the air and afterwards observed oil on the surface of the water.

Considerable skepticism was manifested here today as to the ability of observers to detect such a "hit" at this distance. Instances are rare, it was said, when it could be established that a single shot, fired at a target the small size of a submarine periscope, registered a hit.

The story told by Captain Rice and confirmed by the navy lieutenant today, however, aroused enthusiasm among members of the American colony here and the frankly expressed hope in British naval circles that the shot and found lodgment as the two Americans believed.

British naval officers have had vast admiration for the excellence of the guns with which the American liners are armed and they have great respect for American marksmanship. Therefore they were pulling for some official confirmation of the Mongolia's report.

U. S. OFFICIALS SILENT ON MONGOLIA REPORT

WASHINGTON, April 26.—State and navy department officials today declined to comment regarding a message from the London embassy, said to have circumstantially reported the American freighter Mongolia's supposed sinking of a German U-boat.

They took the position that they could not comment on a case where as great doubt exists as in this case. This is similar to the British system, where submarines are not listed as destroyed unless proof is available.

Officials expressed the personal belief that the destruction of the submarine was "possibly true."

LES DARCY MAY START AERO WORK AT ONCE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 26.—Les Darcy may begin training for the United States Reserve Aviation Corps at once. Bill Rickens, manager of Barney Oldfield, at the instance of De Lloyd Thompson, aviation expert, wired the recruiting officers at Chicago today that a fine airplane, the big field of the Uniontown Speedway Association and Thompson's own service as instructor are at the disposal of the Australian.

ARMED MORPHINE FIENDS IN RAID ON OFFICE OF M. D. NABBED

Drug Addicts Lodged In Jail After They Are Surprised By S. A. Doctor

Two morphine fiends are in jail today as the result of an attempt last night to rob the office of Dr. Frank E. Winters, 110½ West Fourth street. They gave the names of George Young and Robert Rogers. Both are about 25 years of age and are confirmed morphine fiends. Young claims to be a bicycle man of Los Angeles. He was surprised in the office by the physician. Rogers was on guard at the foot of the stairway, but had no chance to warn Young of Dr. Winters' arrival. Bounding into his office in a hurry about 6:30 last evening, Dr. Winters came face to face with Young. One was as much surprised as the other. Young had a Colt's automatic revolver in his topcoat pocket, but made no attempt to use it.

Young had gone through the shelves of medicine in the office in a search for morphine. The medical bottles had been disarranged but none were thrown on the floor. He failed to find what he was after. Dr. Winters is of the opinion that Young had been in the office but a few minutes when he arrived.

The physician noticed Rogers standing at the foot of the stairway, but paid no attention to him as men frequently are seen standing in the stairway. Nightwatchman Joe Ryan was called and he nabbed Rogers and took him up to the office, where Dr. Winters was holding Young.

When the men were searched at jail, a considerable quantity of morphine was found. Where the men got it is not known. Dr. Winters is sure that none was secured in his office.

STEPHENS TO SPEND NEXT WEEK IN SOUTH IN DEFENSE WORK

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Governor Stephens is to spend the next week in Southern California, conferring with local branches of the State Defense Council regarding co-operation with the government in protecting border counties. It is proposed that all women's organizations become auxiliary members of a relief committee.

WORDEN NOTIFIED TO TAKE CAPTAINCY EXAMINATION SOON

Hillyard Is Awaiting Word For Taking Engineering Corps Tests

Frank L. Worden of Santa Ana, a former lieutenant of Co. L, Seventh Regt., has received notification that within a short time he will be instructed to report at Harvard Military Academy in Los Angeles to take the examinations for a captain in the United States Army reserve. Worden sent his application in three weeks ago.

Warren Hillyard is awaiting instructions as to the time and place for taking the examinations for a commission in the U. S. engineering corps.

NEW SENSATIONS IN DEATH FARM CASE DUE

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Further testimony that Mrs. Benton L. Barrett and her 16-year-old son, Raymond Wright, have been seen alive since the day Benton L. Barrett, aged farmer, confessed he killed them and burned their bodies, was to be introduced today by the defense at the murder trial. The defense contends that Barrett was hypnotized or in some other way influenced to make believe he had slain the pair with the hope of causing him to end his life, thus leaving his property to the wife, who would have reappeared.

The strongest testimony to support the theory of Mrs. Barrett being alive was given by two Santa Monica school girls. Both stated that they saw young Wright driving an auto several days after the killings are alleged to have occurred, and that they exchanged greetings with him.

Some men like to talk of their business successes, and the rest would if they ever had any.

$100,000,000 MADE AVAILABLE FOR U. S. FARMERS IN CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26.—To aid the farmers of the nation in meeting the food situation, the government today took steps to throw resources approximating $100,000,000 into the breach.

The action was announced by the treasury department that all postal savings deposits will be made immediately available for loans to farmers.

NO GROUND FOR HIGH PRICES, SAYS REPORT

First Congressionally Authorized Probe Makes Findings Public

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Results of the first congressionally authorized and paid for price probe as a result of recent soaring prices throughout the nation, were reported today.

The conclusion reached is that "there is no just ground for such high prices of many products as are demanded of the consumer at this time."

The report recommends there is "urgent need in this country for organization of comprehensive market machinery which will put producing and consuming communities in trading relations with each other and make possible sending of perishable products directly from the point of production to point of use."

Municipal wholesale markets are recommended.

The probe was conducted in the nation's capital. Some sensational disclosures were laid before Congress in the report, which says that similar conditions undoubtedly hold in other cities of the country.

Conditions unearthed here also may be taken as a criterion of what the Federal Trade Commission may find in its nation-wide investigation. The probe found:

Shortage Reports Misleading
That reports of food shortages were misleading.

That prices in many cities were "unusually high."

That the poor have been compelled to resort to strictest economy to provide food.

That the sale of ordinary cuts of meats appear to have been discontinued.

That consumers are exhibiting more frugality than ever before, the falling off in garbage collections proving this.

That shipments of foodstuffs were abnormally held up and the food supply therefore abnormally depleted.

That the element of speculation in food products had been one of the potent factors in enormous increases in prices.

That shipments of foods to belligerent countries have not affected prices of potatoes, eggs and onions, but that prices on these commodities soared with prices of other foods.

Conditions General
That the food situation here is merely a part of the food situation of the rest of the country.

The probe reported that increased value of farm land, agricultural instruments, costs of distribution and "changed methods of living" undoubtedly has some effect on price increases.

"Suburban life," the report said, "for instance, calls for longer hauls for delivery. On the other hand, apartment-house life calls for frequent small quantity sales, with corresponding increase in frequency of deliveries. The delicatessen serves as pantry for the apartment dweller and the proprietor charges for the services rendered."

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Bakers will meet here tonight to arrange to raise bread prices.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Monday the six-cent loaf will disappear and the smallest will be one dime.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Bakers today announced that the six-cent loaf would appear Monday.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A bread raise is held certain here owing to the cost of flour.

"What's the matter with the baby?" asked a lady of a little girl whose baby brother she had understood to be ailing. "O, nothing much," was the answer. "He's only hatchin' teeth."

WILLIAM WHITE, PIONEER BAKER, DROPS DEAD AT HIS HOME

Well Known Santa Ana Citizen Suddenly Passes Away This Morning

William White, one of the pioneer bakers of the city, and well known throughout the county, dropped dead at his home, 825 North Ross, about 11 o'clock this forenoon. He was alone, his wife being at Fresno visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Wakeham. The cause of death has not been determined. Funeral arrangements will not be completed until his wife arrives. N. Travis, a neighbor, found the body.

White was working in his bake shop, located at the rear of his residence, this morning, when he was seized with pains in the stomach. Travis went over to visit him early in the morning, as has been his custom for years, and White complained to him of the pains. Travis induced White to go into a bedroom adjoining the garage and lie down on the bed, while he went home and mixed cayenne pepper in hot water to give him for relief. After taking the medicine White felt some better and with the aid of Travis continued to make up his morning batch of bread. A little before 11 o'clock White went into the pantry in the house to get something to eat. Travis continued at work in the bakery. A little later Mrs. Travis called her husband to lunch, and the latter decided to go in and see how White was. He found the baker dead on the floor of the pantry.

White attended a meeting of county bakers at Anaheim last night, going over with F. A. Miller of the Home Bakery. They returned home about 11 o'clock last night, and when Miller left him, White was in good spirits and apparently enjoying his usual health.

The decedent had been subject to attacks of acute indigestion and in the opinion of his daughter, Mrs. Ben Stroup of Anaheim, this was the cause of his death.

White was about 60 years of age and had been engaged in business here for twenty-five years or more.

Besides the widow, he leaves three daughters and one son, Mrs. Edith Stroup of Anaheim, Mrs. Ethel Wakeham of Fresno, Mrs. Kate Churchill of Los Angeles and Wm. White, Jr., who is now in San Francisco.

According to a dispatch from Santa Cruz, Benjamin P. Kerns, formerly of Santa Ana, is dead. Kerns lived in Santa Ana for a number of years, and was a director of the old Exchange Bank, founded by M. M. Crookshank. He left here fifteen or eighteen years ago, and lived at Chico.

The Santa Cruz dispatch says: "Benjamin P. Kerns, owner of vast stock ranges in Oregon, Nevada and Shasta county, California, and founder of the First National Bank of Chico, Cal., is dead here. He was 81 years old and a native of New Jersey."

SUGAR BEET RATE CUT DENIED SOUTHLAND BY COMMERCE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied the petition of the American Beet Sugar Company and others asking a modification of the commission's decision that a reduction in rates from 85 to 65 cents per hundred pounds on sugar from Southern California to Texas points is "not reasonable."

NORTHWEST FARMERS CALLING FOR HELP

MINNEAPOLIS, April 26.—Farmers of the Northwest are calling for help. Many are hesitating to plant maximum crops, fearing labor will not be available for harvesting them. John H. Rich, of the Federal Reserve Bank, has compiled a list of towns where farm labor is needed and is giving it wide publicity in the hope of attracting men to the farms. Pay ranges from $30 to $50.

LAPROBE STOLEN

F. W. Wiesseman has reported the theft of a laprobe from his machine at the First Methodist church last night.

CENSORSHIP NOT TO MUZZLE PUBLIC, IS PRESIDENT'S STAND

WASHINGTON, Apr. 26.—President Wilson today made it clear that he is firmly against a too rigid censorship.

In discussing the espionage bill, the President today said that while he approves the bill he is utterly opposed to a censorship denying the people their "indisputable right to criticize their own public officials."

HOUSE WILL ACT TOMORROW ON CONSCRIPTION

Draft Seems Certain to Win As Representatives Agree On Taking of Vote

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The House will act on the army bill tomorrow. Conscription seems certain to win.

The long-drawn-out debate on the question of raising two million men by draft or volunteering will end tonight. This was decided today by unanimous consent immediately the House convened.

This action by the House speeded up the Senate, which will vote on the army bill late Saturday.

Today those in support of the selective draft bill had new confidence in its passage.

A House poll by Representative Gardner indicated that much of the opposition against the measure has vanished and that it will pass by a safe margin despite Speaker Clark's stand against the measure.

This poll made by Gardner was not on the hybrid draft-volunteer measure favorably reported to the House by Chairman Deut of the Military committee, who, with other opponents of the straight out and out draft system want to shift all responsibility for conscription upon the President. The poll was on a straight out and out conscription plan as recommended by the President, the war college and the army general staff.

Representative McArthur of Oregon was today nominated to introduce an amendment to the army bill to permit Colonel Roosevelt to raise his army of volunteers. Several members, among them Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, will speak in favor of the amendment.

More signs of the determined fight to permit raising of a volunteer corps division or brigade by Colonel Roosevelt developed in the House today. Most of the proponents of the plan favor the selective draft for raising an army of 500,000 men, but want to see a small, select force sent to the trenches as soon as possible.

As matters now stand the bill should be a law some time next week, whereupon the war department will at once start work on filling up present gaps and registering youths for a conscription call within two or three months.

BIG STEEL FIRMS TO CUT RATES FOR U. S.
NEW YORK, April 26.—The heads of the country's biggest steel companies today agreed to fill the government's war orders at a third to one-half of market prices.

PLOTTERS SUSPECTED IN LONG BEACH FIRES

LONG BEACH, April 26.—Suspecting strongly that a fire destroying the plant of the National Kelp and Potash Company, yesterday and a fire endangering another potash plant the day before, may have been due to Teutonic influences, local manufacturers today engaged private detectives to investigate the cases, and run down the guilty persons. Other plants here working on government orders have increased the strength of their guards.

APPRAISERS FOR FARM LOAN BOARD NAMED

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The federal farm loan board today announced appointment of these appraisers: Berkeley district, D. W. Hobson, Sacramento, and E. M. Campion, Los Angeles, Cal.; Charles F. Brown, Salt Lake, and S. S. Smith, Ogden, Utah; Spokane district, C. E. B. Roberts, Rupert, Idaho; C. B. Kegley, Palouse; and A. D. Davidson, Stevenson, Wash.

ELIHU ROOT TO GO TO SLAVS AS ENVOY

American Ambassador Reports German Campaign Started In Switzerland

BIG U. S.-ALLY WAR DETAILS ARE MAPPED

Washington Parleys Are Taking Definite Shape; Secrecy to Obtain

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Elihu Root today accepted the chairmanship of the American commission to go to Russia. He conferred with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. The commission will leave as soon as the members get their business affairs arranged.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Ambassador Stovall, in Switzerland, today reported to the State Department that a German committee is openly carrying on a campaign there for a German republic.

Every phase of the day's developments tended to make this task easy. Congress' opposition to the conscription bill was gradually crumbling under onslaughts of the administration. Officials in a position to know expressed belief that the bill, only slightly changed, will be before the President for his signature by the first of next week.

Today's program of organizing the three-cornered world war parley was simplified by the co-operation of French and British commissions, who have dove-tailed in similar conferences frequently in London and Paris.

Loan to Italy Possible
One result of today's parleys between the financial group of the allied conference may be an immediate $50,000,000 loan to Italy.

Plans also were perfected for immediate, preliminary minor loans like this to any of our allies who need them.

Not much time was used by Viviani and Joffre in paying their official compliments to the President, Vice-President Marshall, Secretary Lansing and cabinet members today.

Meanwhile all government departments began actual work putting the plans of the allied conference into effect.

An army of laborers is rapidly being mobilized by Secretary of Labor Wilson to start building the 1000 fast wooden ships to bridge the Atlantic and supply our European allies with food despite the submarine menace.

Veiled in Secrecy
There will be no definite day by day statement from the conferees that they are attacking given problems of money, men, food, clothing shipping or other things. Nor will there probably be any flat announcement from day to day of the things accomplished.

There are two reasons for this. One is that the discussion of various points will be too protracted and involved to permit such action; and the second is that the allies don't want to tip their hands. As one high official expressed it today:

"We want, for the sake of the American public's information, to cloak our proceedings in as thin a veil of secrecy as is compatible with safety to our plans. We want to tell the people as much as we can without giving the enemy valuable information."

The conferences held today indicate that America, after the first contributions of men, money and shipping, will be in charge of the absolute control of certain war phases, principally that of food. America may be the food dictator for all the allied nations. Finance and shipping are considered important, but food is a vital consideration in the conferences.

ELEVEN BOYS NOW ENTERED IN THE FOOD SUPPLY CONTEST

Boys and Girls Continue to Enlist In Army of Vegetable Producers

VEGETABLE CONTEST INFORMATION

Space, 750 square feet or over, first prize $10, second $7.50, third $5.

Space 500 to 750 square feet, first $7.50, second $5, third $2.50.

Space 250 to 500 square feet, first $5, second $3.50, third $2.

Boys compete against boys and girls against girls.

The prizes are the same in each group.

Contest under management of Chamber of Commerce Committee composed of Geo. W. Minter, chairman, S. H. Finley and John C. Cullen.

Contest closes July 1.

No fee charged for entering.

Girls or boys wishing to enter competition should file their names with Secretary J. C. Metzgar.

Entries to date:

Boys—William Winter, 1724 Valencia; Claude Carl, 906 West First; Wendell Heil, 919 Minter; Chas. Herr, 1424 North Broadway; Alfred Fessman, 1059 West Chestnut; Perry and Lamier Davis, 802 West Sixth; Forrest Lowe, 1015 West Second; Paul Crawford, 1612 Spurgeon; Gerald Mitchell, 1250 West Third; Homer Wilcox, 606 West Fifth; Newell Stevens, 531 South Birch; Wilbur Elpps, 602 South Broadway; Laurie Roehm, 530 So. Broadway; Tom Kirven, 1218 Van Ness.

Girls—Frances Perench, 1021 North Flower; Lotta and Fracia Smalley, 825 Cypress.

Plant potatoes.

Plant beans.

Plant anything that can be canned.

Plant any kind of vegetable.

The above covers every question that might be asked as to what contestants in the vegetable growing contest under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce are expected to grow.

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, is daily called by phone by parties interested and asked as to what should be grown under the rules of the contest.

Another point that seems to puzzle whether or not the contestants shall have the revenue derived from the sale of products or whether the products should be turned over to the Chamber. The Chamber lays no claim to the products or revenue—they belong to the contestants.

With eleven boys and three girls entered to date, the contest promises to develop and call forth the best efforts of each one. There is no time limit as to when one may enter the competition and from inquiries received by Metzgar it is probable that many others will file their names with him within the next week. There is time yet to enter and time yet in which to plant garden truck.

The prices lima beans and potatoes are commanding at this time are a strong incentive for the planting of these and boys and girls who are entering the contest with a view to making money from their "farming" operations are selecting potatoes and beans.

At Venice yesterday the beauty of the lawn at the city hall was sacrificed to the necessity, and under authorization of the city council the lawn was plowed up to be planted to potatoes. There is just a little more than two acres in the plot and the potatoes produced will be given to the poor of the city. Employees of the city with offices in the city hall have each agreed to give one hour of their time each morning and evening to cultivation of the crop. Citizens present at the council meeting donated a total of 200 acres. The city agreed to plant all land loaned and to furnish seed free to those who were unable to buy them. They will give water free and the fire department will assist in irrigating the vacant lots.

Students of the Union High School and grammar schools have enrolled in the movement and will take over some of the acreage for cultivation.

SPLENDID SERMON CLOSES REVIVAL

Rev. Fred H. Ross, who has been conducting revival services for the past two weeks at the First Methodist church, preached a fine closing sermon last night on the address, which David delivered when he gave up to his son, Solomon, the scepter. The story is found in the twenty-eighth chapter of first Chronicles.

David impressed Solomon with the necessity of knowing his God. The evangelist urged his hearers to take advantage of every opportunity to be a witness and an example for God. In business, in homes, in schools, everywhere there are chances to fill the world with the good news of salvation.

Every parent should be, like David, an example to children. David had some faults, but he was a man after God's heart. We are all examples to others as we go through life and many are saved or lost through the things that we do or say.

These are days of education, but the best of all is the knowledge of God and knowledge is only gained by repentance. Service is also gained from knowledge and people should learn to serve God with a perfect heart and willing mind, and we can work for God only in proportion as we know Him. According to one knows God, He will know his servant.

God is acquainted with us in the secret places and a man is just what he thinks in his mind, and there will come the time when all must stand the test of revelation.

If God is sought, He will be found and if He is forsaken He will cast us off. People seek gold, education, health and withstand all sorts of hardships to obtain them; then how much more important it is to seek a knowledge of God. Much anxiety is felt and all available skill used to save sick bodies, but sick souls are so much more valuable.

Both Rev. Ross and C. H. Fowler, who has charmed people with sermon songs and impressed them with his Bible lessons, thanked the people for their cooperation during their stay here and Dr. Peck, the pastor, also spoke in words of praise of the two workers.

The meetings have resulted in about forty receptions into the church and great uplift and inspiration in the church. Rev. Ross goes from here to Compton and Mr. Fowler goes north to Sebastopol. Both men have made many warm friends during their stay here, and have made many visits to the sick and shut-ins.

IS MADE LIEUTENANT

ANAHEIM, April 26.—Sergeant W. Erle Simpson of the United States Army, who has been here on a furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Simpson, received a telegram yesterday for him to report at Fort Bliss, Texas, not later than midnight tonight. Later he received a letter stating that he had been appointed first lieutenant and so his visit, which was to have been extended another thirty days, was cut short.

THE A. C. ASKING FEDERAL AID IN BUILDING OF COAST ROAD

State Highway Commission to Begin Shoulder Work On Tustin-San Juan Road

SUPERVISOR TALKS TO PLACENTIA MEETING

Feasibility of Using County Prisoners On Road Work Up to Committee

THE COMMITTEES

F. C. Krause of Anaheim, newly elected president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, has appointed standing committees as follows:

Ways and Means—J. G. Knapp, chairman; E. W. Bollinger, Geo. W. Moore.

Manufacturing and Commerce—T. B. Talbert, chairman; R. L. Bisby, J. P. Greeley.

Railroad and Transportation—Jas. S. Smart, chairman; E. E. French, N. Frank Morse.

Education, Advertising and Exhibits—J. A. Armitage, chairman; E. W. Hauck, Theo. A. Winbigger.

Legislative—Albert Launer, chairman; Walter Eden, Dr. J. D. Thomas.

Harbor—Lew H. Wallace, chairman; J. H. Evans, H. J. Schulte, E. H. Paddock, F. D. Cornell.

Excursion—J. C. Metzgar, chairman; N. Le Marquand, J. H. Whitaker.

National Orange Show—A. S. Bradford, chairman; D. Eymann Huff, R. L. Bisby.

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County is asking Federal aid in building the coast road.

At the meeting of the Associated Chambers at Placentia last night Supervisor Leck announced that the State Highway Commission within a few days will commence building shoulders on the road between Tustin and San Juan Capistrano.

A committee was appointed to make an investigation and report upon the feasibility and advisability of using county prisoners upon construction work.

Supervisor T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach at last night's meeting said that he did not know that it would be possible to get Federal aid in building the coast boulevard, but every effort should be made to secure that aid. On his motion the good roads committee was directed to take immediate steps in interesting California senators and congressmen in the project.

L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach said that Federal aid had been given a county road project in Iowa on a city-city basis.

Road Shoulders Wallace said that during the coming year the county ought to pay special attention to the building of shoulders on its paved roads. Coroner Winbigger urged the matter as a protection to life and limb. He spoke of the state highway to the south as dangerous.

"The State Highway Commission," said Supervisor Leck, "told me it was now ready to go ahead with that work, and that it will start within a few days. Delays have occurred before, but this time I think the work is to be done."

It was stated that a part of the Buena Park paved road is in bad shape, and various conjectures as to why the concrete went bad were indulged in. William Stradley thought the mixture was bad, and J. P. Greeley thought it was not cured under water. N. F. Morse of Placentia replied that it was cured under water, but went bad anyhow. Jasper Leck said he thought the road grade was six inches to a foot too low.

Supervisor Talbert said the county is doing a lot of repair work now, and is catching up as rapidly as possible. The work on the shoulders would have to wait until money became available after July 1.

"Take our county roads as a whole," said he, "and there is not much poor concrete base."

Care for Pavement "We have reached the point where every portion of this county should stop asking for more mileage of paved roads," said Supervisor Leck, "so that we can devote our money and our time toward getting the shoulders built and in getting every piece of pavement into good condition. We should put on shoulders out of our district funds. Crushed rock and oil make a durable shoulder," Leck said that if each district cared for its pavement, many holes could be patched before they got big.

W. T. Brown of Fullerton wanted to know if the cost of maintaining any particular piece of pavement could be determined. The reply of the supervisors was that while the maintenance was under the County Highway Commission every item was separated into roads, and the record kept. The new maintenance department is doing the same thing now.

Prisoners and Work Sheriff C. E. Jackson stated that he favored working the county prisoners. He said he felt that the experiment of having a road camp at Arch Beach and working thirty prisoners under two guards was a success, although his end of the job was not the financial end, that being up to Supervisor Leck. He did not know why the supervisors had decided not to use the prisoners for re-building the El Modena grade. Just now there are only a few men in jail, only about thirty, all told.

"On part of the grading below Laguna Beach, the jail camp labor paid," said Supervisor Leck, "and on part of it it did not pay. There are many conditions that count. If the job is a big job of rough labor, using the prisoners will pay. It will pay better if the job is close enough to the jail so that the prisoners can be taken back and forth every day. It must be done in a way to minimize the expense for guards. Taking our work below Laguna Beach, it was not entirely satisfactory, and it did not demonstrate that working prisoners pays. It all depends on the job."

Forestry Work T. E. Stephenson said that the forestry department found the working has both advantages and disadvantages. Prisoners cannot be worked Saturday afternoons, and the state law gives the prisoner an eight-hour day, which is construed to be eight hours from the time of leaving jail until the return. The forestry men found the use of prisoners paid until the number available was reduced so that the number obtained did not pay for using a slow truck and for the loss of time of other employees waiting for the start from the jail. Recently the use of prisoners was discontinued on that account. The forestry foreman, J. B. Joplin, was well satisfied with the work done by prisoners under him.

George Huntington of Harper favored paying the prisoners for their work. Supervisor Leck said the law will not allow that to be done except in special cases. One method followed is to allow a good man several days' work on pay after his term ends.

J. P. Greeley advocated working the prisoners as a humanitarian measure. He said habits of industry would be instilled, and every effort to give a man something to do rather than lay in jail should be made.

On the motion of T. L. McFadden of Placentia, a committee was appointed by F. C. Krause, president, to investigate the working of prisoners in this county and elsewhere, and report. On the committee are Charles Eygabroad of Anaheim, Elmer Jahraus of Laguna Beach and Robert Hazard of Westminster.

Figures as Proof County Surveyor J. L. McBride said that accurate count of the amount of dirt moved for a bridge showed that the average prisoner on that job did as much in a day as day laborers would do for a private contractor. Leck declared the prisoners worked slowly, and any man who did not do two or three times as much in a day as a prisoner did on that job would be fired by Leck.

The sheriff said the prisoners themselves preferred being out at work than to being in jail.

Advertising Stamps J. A. Armitage urged the use of slogan advertising stamps. Last night 11,000 of them were ordered by various chambers of commerce. William Stradley urged their use on casabas shipped from Placentia.

L. H. Wallace reported that condemnation proceedings for land for the Newport harbor would soon be brought.

Industry Projects Charles Eygabroad in a "patronize home industry" address urged support for the Anaheim Beef & Provision Company. Talbert said that company had caused the development of another, a stock food industry, in the lowlands.

H. M. Adams stated that 3000 letters mailed at Anaheim giving a list of Orange county products had brought results. Talbert urged the use of figurative made at Orange. On Eygabroad's motion endorsement was given the Pacific Coast Oilcloth Company, which is raising capital for expansion into a flag-making plant.

Le Marquand of Fullerton advocated instituting a Home Products Week for Orange county.

Splendid Banquet As usual, a splendid banquet was served at Placentia. The banquet was prepared by the mothers of Placentia P-T-A, and the serving was done by the school teachers. The tables were gorgeously decorated with tremendous bouquets of General McArthur roses.

outlined his hopes for the work of the Associated Chambers. He said that sometimes he was convinced that there was a tendency to be too critical of county officers, and also that it was too easy to seek changes. He advised that the Associated Chambers go slow.

"The time has come when as a united body we should make a fight for every industry that seeks location or is located in Orange county, regardless of location," said he.

The address of welcome was given by Attorney T. L. McFadden of Placentia, and the response was by Eygabroad.

WORTHY HAS ORDER TO BEGIN TRAINING FOR A COMMISSION

Attorney Elmer Worthy of Santa Ana has received an order to report on May 8 at the United States officers' training camp at San Francisco.

Following six months of training, with the pay of second lieutenant, he will receive whatever commission he then qualifies for. He is a graduate of the law department of Stanford University, and has had experience in the national guard at Palo Alto, and went to the border with Company L.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

—When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, thorough, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Splendid Address

A mere foretaste of the splendid things that are in store for those who attend the Santa Ana Chautauqua for 1917, which started this afternoon at 3 o'clock, was given this morning when Lou Beauchamp delivered a 20-minute address to the students of the Santa Ana High School.

That address, full of inspiration and food for thought and guidance, was worth a good deal to the Santa Ana community. Delivered to high school students, it was the kind of an address that alone would cost no small sum. These of the fifty guarantors who heard that address appreciated its value to young people, and felt in that alone repaid for the work they have done toward getting the Chautauqua upon a successful footing.

"God endows every child," said Beauchamp, "with the capacity of doing some one thing supremely well, and those who are most successful in life are those who, early in life, dis-

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts At First Sign of Bladder
Irritation or Backache

—The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble; bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

Ada Roach and Her Smile at Chautauqua

Althea Players and Lou Beauchamp Program, 7:30

Tonight's program is one that pleases everybody. The evening will open with the singing of songs. It is going to be the first time that Santa Ana has undertaken community singing, a joy that it is hoped will grow into a permanent custom. Harry Garstang will be the leader.

"The Star Spangled Banner" is to be one of the songs selected.

The Althea Players, who are entertaining the assembly at the Chautauqua tent this afternoon, are to give a number of their best selections tonight.

Then comes the lecture by Lou Beauchamp.

Lou Beauchamp is known as "The Humorous Philosopher." Brimming over with fun, humor and seriousness he teaches a lesson but in a way that cover what that capacity is and develops it.

Here are a few of the splendid things said by Beauchamp at the assembly, which was presided over by Eugene Trago, president of the student body:

Beauchamp Points

"The only dreams that come true are the ones we dream when we are wide awake."

"God doesn't call all to the top of the mountain, but he calls all in that direction."

"There is just as much of a career beside the kitchen stove as in leading a suffragette parade down Broadway."

"Find out what God wants you to do, and do your best."

"It doesn't take any more brains or work to get the right answer than it does to get the wrong answer."

"Dig! Dig! Dig! Dig! and if you dig long enough and true enough in this life you will get the answer."

Metropolitan Men Singers

The Metropolitan Men Singers and Ada Roach are the entertainers for tomorrow, Friday, afternoon. The quartet is one of ability. There is a precision, a snap, an enthusiasm to their program which is irresistible. These four big men with fine voices are Jack Wiles, Leonard C. Aldridge, Glen Chamberlain and Floyd Williams.

The men are equally at home with the classical, the popular or the old home songs. The vigor and enthusiasm with which they sing the college songs and the humorous selections are good to witness.

The men are entertainers as well as singers. They have harmonious, strong, well-trained voices. All will be delighted with their new and humorous selections.

The men have sung together until their voices harmonize in striking and pleasing manner. They are all big, fine fellows and are as large in stature

About Ada Roach

Ada Roach is a comedienne of broad smile and with a shrewd sense of humor. To be plain, she's Irish. "As a delineator of Irish characters Miss Roach is one of the best ever seen and alone could give an evening's entertainment fully worth the price of a season's ticket," said the Butler (Mo.) Democrat, recently.

In her nationality skits and dialect songs she is "a perfect scream." She is "The Joy Gern." She is "Ada the Sunshine Girl." She is possessed of the smile that doesn't come off. It will take but a nod of her head, a twist of the wrist or a word and a smile to make her audience laugh, for Miss Roach's smiles are contagious. She brings sunshine to her audiences and helps make life worth while.

IOWA FARMS BEGIN GIANT CAMPAIGN

DES MOINES, April 26.—Aroused to the need of increasing the nation's food supply as a war measure, Iowa today is resounding to the greatest farming campaign in its history.

Governor W. L. Harding's special message to the legislature, which immediately appropriated $100,000 to push the campaign, resulted in a commission of farm experts being appointed to lead the movement for increasing and conserving the food yield.

The commission at once announced that labor shortage was the most threatening sign. Among the steps it took to mobilize farm labor was a call upon high school boys to work on the farms. Farm labor bureaus are to be established throughout the state. The churches, schools, commercial bodies and individual business men and manufacturers are being urged to cooperate by encouraging city dwellers to help on farms during rush periods.

Nearly 2000 vacant lots in Des Moines are being planted under the auspices of a city gardening commission. Railroads are considering seeding the soil along their right of way, while counties are taking up the question of cultivating waste places along public highways. The home gardening movement is sweeping the state.

Women suffragists, inspired by a special plea from Governor Harding, are planning to mobilize women for farm labor and to engage in canning and preserving on a large scale. The home economics movement, with emphasis on using every table scrap and cutting out the garbage waste, has taken on new life.

The state commission is planning to send a flying squadron of experts through the state, urging farmers to their utmost efforts as a patriotic duty.

Anticipating a long war, the commission called upon farmers to save breeding animals, cut down losses from animal diseases, put in more poultry and more hogs and use better seed.

Better marketing systems are to receive the commission's closest attention this summer.

WHY THIS DELAY?

From time to time our City Trustees have complained of the difficulty in getting action from the Pacific Electric upon numerous matters that are of importance here even if they are of minor importance to the Pacific Electric, and just now the city finds itself held up in its desire to go ahead with the plans for constructing a reinforced concrete bridge on North Main street. The Pacific Electric is the cause of the delay.

The City Trustees very rightfully reached the conclusion that the Pacific Electric should bear a proportion of the cost of the new bridge, and in an effort to reach an understanding with the railway as to what that proportion should be a committee went to Los Angeles and interviewed a number of officials. It was found that the Pacific Electric approached the subject warily. The most definite proposition that could be secured was that the P. E. should pay the cost of whatever added strength was necessary to carry the P. E. traffic. The engineers would have to figure it out, and when it was figured out the P. E. would send a representative to Santa Ana for a conference with City Engineer Bonebrake. The city engineer was also to figure. He finished his figuring long ago, and has had time to figure it out fifty times over. Still the P. E. has not finished its figuring. That is, the representative has not yet reached Santa Ana, and no word concerning his activities or lack of activities has been sent to the city government.

In the meantime we are using an old wooden bridge that is declared by competent engineers to be something of a menace. We all know it is unsightly and illy arranged for the convenience of traffic. We are ready to go ahead with the improvement, but we must wait while an assistant to the assistant engineer to the chief engineer or somebody else in the Los Angeles office makes up his mind that he has time to tackle the job.

This statement of the situation in the Los Angeles office may be overdrawn, of course, but it is apparent to the local authorities that the Pacific Electric is not buying itself in co-operating in getting a new bridge on North Main street. Just such delays and failure to proceed in co-operation with the city governments of the smaller cities to which the Pacific Electric service reaches has caused an endless number of misunderstandings and sore spots. The least the Pacific Electric could do would be to make up its mind what it is willing to do, and announce its intentions. Then Santa Ana, if not satisfied, could take up the matter with the State Railroad Commission, if that is possible and advisable, and get somewhere.

ADVERTISING LOANS

The government is said to be planning a campaign of paid advertising for the big war loans recently voted by Congress, in the belief that such advertising is necessary to place them properly before the investing public.

Several newspapers in various parts of the country have pointed out that this would entail a quite unnecessary expense—that the American press is willing and able to provide the public with full information about the loans in the regular news columns.

A great paid-publicity campaign financed by the government would mean many hundred thousands of dollars' worth of advertising business for the newspapers of the country. The receipt of money for the display ads contemplated by the treasury department would undoubtedly be legitimate. The newspapers would be selling space as usual—space worth the money paid for it, and therefore a commodity of commerce in much the same sense that shoes and uniforms for soldiers are commodities.

But most American newspapers have no desire to profit at the public expense in any department of war service in which they can render an equivalent service for nothing. And few indeed are the newspapers that will not gladly help to "do their bit" by printing gratis, as a matter of ordinary news, all the requisite information that the government cares to supply to the press in placing its loans on the market.

WORLD IN TRANSFORMATION

Kansas City Star

A leading Chicago financier sent out a private wire last week calling the attention of his correspondents to a report that the railroads had consented to be operated as one system as soon as the necessity should arise. Duplicate train service would then be avoided, cars would be more advantageously handled, routings would be made in the interest of efficiency, freight congestion would be reduced, and he predicted that there would be a gain in excess of 20 per cent in the efficiency of the railroads.

This is only one field in which the war promises to work a transformation. For if the operation of the railroads in this way should produce the expected increase in efficiency, they will never go back to the present system, and the same thing is true in other branches of industry.

Under the stress of war manufacturers have found they were not making anything like the use they might of the country's chemists. Germany's success, they saw, was conditioned to an important extent on an intelligent application of chemistry to industrial problems. Already, within two years, American energy in combination with the available scientific knowledge, has produced a dye industry that compares with the German industry that was forty years in building.

The submarine campaign has forced us to turn our energies to shipbuilding. Before the war our merchant marine was negligible. Even last year, under the stimulus of war freight rates, we produced only about 600,000 tons of shipping. But we are going into the business in earnest now. By autumn we shall be producing 200,000 tons a month, and the shipping board estimates that this production can be increased to one-half million tons a month by spring.

The airplane was hardly out of the experimental stage when the war began, and it is undeveloped in the United States today. But before the war is ended there will be tens of thousands of trained aviators in the world and this country will be producing machines in immense quantities. It is almost unthinkable that out of this experience will not come practical uses of the airplane on a scale hitherto undreamed of.

Hitherto the nation has paid little attention to food economies. It has left production and distribution of foods to a system that was only approximately efficient. The discipline of war ought to produce a far more intelligently regulated system than we have known.

Women had been becoming an increasingly important industrial factor in the last decade. But in Europe the war has given them an industrial importance never dreamed of. As a result of bringing them into industry, together with the increased efficiency of the whole industrial system, Britain has found it possible to keep millions of men in the field, keep other millions in the destructive industry of munitions making, and maintain its export trade at the old level. This experience shows what may be expected in the United States under the pressure of the years just ahead.

A struggle that taxes all the energies and resources of hundreds of millions of people will not leave the world the same when it is ended. It is bound to work a profound transformation. The overthrow of the Russian autocracy is only a symptom on the political side of the far-reaching changes that are coming in the whole social and industrial organization of the world. In these changes America must share.

Reducing Food Cost

Supplied by Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture.

ABANDON FOOD PREJUDICES

Don't be finicky. Be willing to try new foods. Certain plentiful and nourishing foods widely used and enjoyed in one section are practically unknown in other sections of the country. Learn to know all the good things, not a few only.

People too easily get into food ruts; insist on eating only the food they are used to, and refuse to give a fair trial to others. This causes undue demand for certain staples, with resulting scarcity or high prices when crops are short. At the same time other valuable foods may be relatively cheap and available.

An example is refusal in certain sections to use anything but wheat as a breadstuff, when corn—a valuable cereal widely used elsewhere as a breadstuff—is plentiful and relatively cheap.

Cook Food Properly

Learn how to cook all kinds of staple foods and to serve them in a variety of ways. Simple dishes well prepared are better than expensive foods badly cooked.

Many persons are prejudiced against certain food foods because, when first tried, the foods were improperly cooked or prepared.

Remove from your vocabulary "don't like" or "can't eat."

Most individual prejudices against widely popular foods are either imaginary or baseless.

Try to like every simple food; give it a fair trial.

Literature--It's Value and Influence

The following essay on "Literature—Its Value and Influence," was written by Miss Ruth Andrews, in H. G. Blue's elementary composition class of the Junior College.

Only lovers of the best of literature truly realize what a wonderful heritage we of the present day possess!

With but trivial sacrifice we may obtain the works of the greatest masters of literary expression, and with little effort make their immortal thoughts our own. To have a keen appreciation of the best world-literature, is to possess a priceless wealth which Midas well might envy.

Literature is world-old. Prehistoric peoples endeavored to express their thoughts and dreams by carving crude hieroglyphs upon stone. Those people are now forgotten, but their primitive records still remain. The civilizations of Babylon and Egypt have long since crumbled to nothingness, but much of their literature has been carefully preserved from the ravages of time. Buried in the past with her mythical nature-deities, is ancient Greece, but the influence of her culture is undying. The literature of a nation is its best history. It is the heart and soul of the dead races who have created it.

We cannot estimate the value of books and the influence which they have had upon humanity. He who does not know the happiness which love of books brings, is poor indeed. He has lost one of life's sweetest gifts. All great men of literature have been lovers of books. Carlyle, in his singular and foolish way, has said in "Heroes and Hero-Worship" that of all things which man can do or make here below, books are by far the most momentous, wonderful, and worthy. Perhaps, like Macaulay, he felt that he would rather be "a poor man in a garret with plenty of books, than a king who did not love reading."

All books, however, do not deserve our love and admiration. Many are widely read today, but forgotten tomorrow. In the hurried selection of books for mere pastime and amusement, we often forget to choose those worth-while. A man may be known by the kind of books which he reads. Many of us would unwillingly be put to the test, for the ensuing revelation might prove embarrassing.

The imagination is stimulated and cultivated through the reading of good literature. Beautiful and vivid diction has an aesthetic appeal to our better selves. The melody and delicate imagery found in the lyrics of Shelley and Tennyson transport us to a lovelier and purer land of poetry and dream-fancies where the sordid bitterness of failure has no place.

The greatest value of good literature is found in the fact that it brings a message to us, which inspires us with the desire to face life more nobly, by means of its uplifting influence. All literature which has stood the test of time, has a message for each one of us, if we will but seek to find it—a message which lifts our hearts nearer to the ever-present love of the Divine One.

To be of lasting influence, literature must also possess the element of universality. This is especially noticeable in Greek literature, and in all the great books of power. Shakespeare, the Master-Poet, knew this to be true, and because of his knowledge, his works are today treasured by many who do not recognize the names of Sudermann and De Renzier. We learn from his dramas that the people who lived in the Elizabethan Age possessed the same passions and ambitions, and faced the same temptations which we ourselves possess and face. To defy time, literature must contain this human element and heart-interest. It must deal with every-day problems which confront us everywhere, and show us the solution of the tangled and complex mysteries of life.

Literature plays a great part in moulding the character of the youth who is fond of reading. The destructive influence of worthless books casts a shadow upon the future life of an impressionable child, which has too often been discovered when it is too late to repair the injury which has been wrought. Contrast with this the wonderful influence of a noble book which instills a love of truth and sincerity within the heart of the child.

Love of reading grows when one reads extensively. Only after a study of the truly great in literature may we recognize the real value of "Books that purify the thought, Spirits of the learned dead, Teachers of the little taught, Comforters when friends are fled."

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE

By Henry James

Justice Hinshaw of the California supreme court thinks that juries should be abolished.

It is a pleasure to agree with so distinguished an authority. Either they should be abolished or the jury box barrier against intelligence be removed.

Juries now are not selected for fitness, but for unfitness; not for intelligence, but for stupidity.

When a man declares concerning some crime that has stirred the country that he has formed no opinion, he confesses to a degree of ignorance that should not be tolerated. When he says that he has not read the papers, the chances are that he is lying, and if he is not lying he belongs to a home of defectives.

Creating War

"By thinking war inevitable we make it inevitable." Excerpt from a letter.

Just so. And by thinking that the temperature at Christmas will be lower than the Fourth of July, we create the useless expense of buying overcoats.

Let's Settle This

After seven years, and a series of trials, Dr. B. Clark Hyde of Kansas City is free from the charge of murder. Not that any halo of innocence is perched upon his brow, but that the machinery of justice simply got tired out.

Now that the good doctor is out of danger, won't he ease the public mind? Say, Doc, just as a matter of curiosity, did you kill the man or not?

Addresses Wanted

Several persons were accustomed before the war to write to this department such stuff as since the declaration of war would be treasonable.

Will they kindly write again, enclosing addresses? It is felt to be a duty to mention them to the federal authorities.

Study Values

Lecturer Powys deplors the circumstance that public schools are abandoning the teaching of dead languages and teaching useful things.

"Do you consider the study of Latin and Greek essential for any young man?"

"Without question," responded the shabby professor of fifty-nine, his salary $1,500. "Look at me."

This joke is swiped from Life, but answers Powys so well that the act is justifiable.

An Anomaly

San Bernardino has gone dry, but has elected the wet candidates.

The unbiased observer cannot help wondering where the new set of officials will get their drinks.

Good Plan

Germany proposes to set madmen to work.

Nothing could be more appropriate. Madmen would be in harmony with the big boss.

Attempted Suicide

It is proposed to punish the attempted suicide. Of course the chap who tries the scheme and gets away with it can't be reached.

However, there are different ways of looking at the matter. In some cases there is a natural impulse to supply the failure with any weapon he desires, and counsel him not to be discouraged, but to try, try again.

Bill Stone

"Close the ranks, be game and make good," said Senator Stone. "Fine! But the gentleman himself tried hard to blow such a gap in the ranks that the enemy might march through."

Mildly Rebuked

A Portland preacher declared that the war in which we are engaged is unrighteous.

This sort of sentiment didn't go very well in a city that had led the Pacific coast in enlistments, but alas, all they could do with the fellow was to burn him in effigy. Probably his ears burned, too.

Outdone

Nine men were killed in an automobile race in Mexico City.

Thus the Southern California record of four, heretofore considered pretty fair, goes glimmering.

AMUSEMENTS

Grand Opera House
The management of the Grand Opera House has secured for Sunday night, April 23, the musical comedy of the season, "Hello Hawaii," direct from a five-weeks' run at Morosco's Burbank Theatre of Los Angeles. This company has been booked for long engagements in New York and Chicago. The producer and manager are giving the Southern California theater-going public an opportunity of seeing this wonderful production before going East.

SAYS TYPHOID FEVER IS DISGRACE TO U. S.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26.—In the last ten years the United States has lost more possible soldiers from typhoid fever than the Germans have lost at Verdun, and in this period the Germans have saved more men than they have lost at Verdun, declares Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the Indiana board of health.

Typhoid fever, Dr. Hurty says, is the shame of America, because it usually is produced by filth. It is one of the chief reasons why only 20 per cent of Americans between the ages of 18 and 35 are fit for military service, and the absence of it is one of the reasons why 60 per cent of the Germans are fit for service, Dr. Hurty says.

"It is immoral to have a high typhoid death rate, and it is this immorality and the immorality of having other preventable disease which gives us only twenty sound men out of one hundred," says Dr. Hurty.

IT SOUNDED HOPEFUL

A young man who was not particularly entertaining was monopolizing the attention of a pretty debutante with a lot of uninteresting conversation.

"Now, my brother," he remarked in the course of a dissertation on his family, "is just the opposite of me in every respect. Do you know my brother?"

"No," the debutante replied demurely, "but I should like to."

LUMBERMEN TO GATHER AT CO. PARK MAY 12

The lumbermen of Southern California and their families have designated Orange County Park as their meeting place this year and preparations are being made by the Orange county dealers to receive a large crowd from all over the Southland, from Santa Barbara to National City, and to make this the greatest annual outing so far experienced.

All of the local yards will close at 5:30 p. m., Friday, May 11, and remain closed all day Saturday, May 12, to permit the managers and their helpers to do the entertaining in genuine Orange County fashion from daybreak till dark.

DOCKET MISSING. JUSTICE COX PERTURBED

Judge Cox is "thinking strong under his breath" today.

One good justice court docket is missing.

Some time since—date deleted by censor—ten perfectly good dockets for recording the cases in the justice court were ordered and printed. Dockets 1, 2 and 3 have been used and cases are on hand or soon will be to open No. 4. No. 4 can't be found. The pages in the docket are numbered consecutively throughout the series. If No. 5 is opened with No. 4 missing there will be a wide gap in the numbers, unless the pages in the remaining docket are renumbered. Judge Cox had a hunch that possibly some of his worthy brothers on the benches in the townships of the county might have "cabbaged" the missing book, and yesterday he sent Motorcop Ballard and Constable Frank Heard on a tour of the justice courts of the county to see if the missing volume could be located. During yesterday and today the officers visited all the justices in the county except Leo Goepper at Balboa—and the book is still wanted.

SAYS HE CAN GET 'TWO PER CENT ON BEACH BOND COIN

NEWPORT BEACH, April 26.—A. B. Rousselet returned yesterday from a trip to Los Angeles and Santa Ana, where he went to see if it were true that the $100,000 secured for the sale of jetty bonds could be deposited in banks and draw two per cent interest.

Rousselet is showing two letters, one from the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles, and one from the Orange County Trust & Savings Bank of Santa Ana. Each bank offered to pay two per cent upon a deposit of $50,000.

SPRING COLDS ARE DANGEROUS
Sudden changes of temperature and underwearing bring spring colds with stuffed up head, sore throat and general cold symptoms. A dose of Dr. King's New Discovery is sure relief; this happy combination of antiseptic balsams clears the head, soothes the irritated membranes and what might have been a lingering cold is broken up. Don't stop treatment when relief is first felt as a half cured cold is dangerous. Take Dr. King's New Discovery till your cold is gone.

HOUSE WARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Parker
Visited By Company of Friends Last Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Parker, who were recently married at San Bernardino, and now settled at their home on Repollo Road, were given a merry housewarming last evening by a company of their friends.

The self-invited guests were given a hearty welcome and the evening hours were spent with various games. Mr. and Mrs. Parker were presented with a handsome casserole by their friends, who had also supplied themselves with bounteous refreshments, which added to the evening's pleasures. Mrs. Parker was formerly Miss Rose Caudle.

Those participating in the surprise were the following: Misses Lillie Chaffee, Gladys Cook, Gertrude Roper, Blanche Crowther, Edna Brooks, Jennie McDonnell, Mary Hamilton, Ivy Hamilton, Mrs. Eva Glines and Mrs. George Beckman.

DOUBLE WEDDING

St. Joseph's Catholic Church
Scene of Nuptial High
Mass Yesterday

Very impressive services marked the marriage yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church of Miss Mary Lypps and John Vandeputte and Mrs. Elizabeth Vandeputte and Victor Lypps, all of Orange.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of beautiful roses and the pastor, Monsignor H. Eummen, performed the wedding ceremony and officiated at mass.

The two winsome brides were attired exactly alike, wearing natty tan tulle dresses with white picture hats and shower bouquets of white carnations and maiden hair ferns.

The couples were attended at the altar by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maag and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schaner, the two ladies being sisters of Miss Mary Lypps and Victor Lypps. The matrons also wore light-colored tailored suits and white hats and carried pink carnations.

To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, the young people took their places and after high mass was sung and congratulations followed the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maag of Orange, where a sumptuous wedding dinner and delightful reception were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandeputte will soon leave for their new home at Hart, Mich., but after a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Lypps will make their home at Placentia. Both young couples have a host of friends in Santa Ana and Orange who wish them a future of great happiness.

SPAETH-BURRIER

Young Couple Wedded High
Noon Yesterday at Home of Bride's Grandmother

At the home of Mrs. Jessie Davis on West Fifth street, grandmother of the bride, Miss Hazel Burrier yesterday became the wife of Earl Spaeth. The ceremony was solemnized at high noon, the marriage being performed by Dr. H. W. Peck of the First Methodist church.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion, the bridal party standing under a canopy fashioned of asparagus ferns, studded with white Kaiserin roses.

The bridal procession was a pretty one. The groom was attended by his brother, Roy Spaeth, and entered first, followed by the flower maiden, Vivian Buchheim, attired in dainty blue and carrying a basket filled with rose petals, which she scattered in the bride's path. Little Miss Marjorie Burns bore the ring hidden in the heart of a white rosebud.

The bride, attired in beautiful white marquisette and carrying dainty Cecile Brunner roses, orange blossoms and maiden hair ferns, was met at the door by her father, Clarence Spae, who gave her into the keeping of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Muriel Wright, who was also clad in white and carried white rosebuds.

Following a shower of hearty congratulations, a delicious two-course dinner was served to the forty relatives and friends, the bride cutting the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Spaeth received hosts of handsome and useful wedding gifts of cut glass, silver, china and linen. They left for a brief wedding trip, after which they will remain with the groom's mother on East Santa Clara avenue, until the return of her husband, D. G. Buchheim, from the east. The going away gown was of dove-colored broadcloth with harmonizing accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Spaeth were accompanied as far as Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McCullom, who were married last Friday.

George Faul, Jr., Celebrates
His Birthday With Company Young Friends

In celebration of his twenty-first birthday, George Faul, Jr., and Mrs. Faul were hosts to sixteen of their young friends, who have grown up from childhood together. The reason for the celebration, however, was kept a secret until the arrival of the guests, when the young man was deluged with hearty congratulations on how being able to vote.

Mrs. Faul had transformed their handsome apartments at the Colonial into a bower of patriotic loveliness, red, white and blue being the color scheme. The blossoms utilized were white carnations and red roses. Five hundred formed the interesting diversion for the evening, the first prizes going to Mrs. Sam Barker and Leonard Baker and the consolation to Myford Irvine.

The patriotic keynote was also found in the tempting two course collation, served on the small tables. Mrs. Faul being assisted in serving by her niece, Miss Helen Sylvester.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Knight; Misses Blanche Anderson, Helen Carden, Helen Reinsberg, Elizabeth Givens, Florence McArthur; Messrs. Don-

End Your Stomach Troubled Days.

"If you suffer from indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, pain after eating, sour, painful or too strongly acid stomach, bad breath or bloating, if you are afflicted with any kind of stomach trouble, do not patch up your stomach by using make-shift pepsin tablets or other artificial digestants," states a prominent authority on stomach ills. Go to your druggist and get a 4-ounce bottle of Stumaze, the most wonderful anti-acid and stomach re-builder ever compounded. The first dose of this remarkable prescription tells the story. Go now—today. Don't suffer longer. Real relief and solid stomach comfort is waiting for you at any well-stocked drug store. Simply ask for a four-ounce bottle of Stumaze prescription.—Adv.

"You think I know nothing about him?" smiled the lawyer. "I know that he came manfully in what he supposed to be a business way, and tried to negotiate a loan instead of begging the money. I know that he has been under good influence, or he would not have signed that pledge, and that he does not hold it lightly, or he would not have cared for it so carefully. I agree with him that one who keeps himself from such things has a character to offer as security."—Exchange.

"What security can you offer?" asked the lawyer.

The boy's hand sought his pocket and drew out a paper carefully folded in a bit of calico. It was a cheaply printed pledge against the use of intoxicating liquors and tobacco. As respectfully as if it had been a deed to a farm, the lawyer examined it, accepted it, and handed over the required sum.

A friend who had watched the transaction with silent amusement laughed as the young borrower departed.

Day Nursery Birthday
Miss Hazel Millen celebrated her tenth birthday at the Day Nursery yesterday, a bounteous dinner being served to fifteen children in her honor at noon. The table was prettily decorated, many lovely pink roses having been provided for the occasion. A nice birthday cake with ten pink candles was a feature.

The Onowha Club
The members of a little club, who have been meeting from time to time, last night gathered at the home of Miss Nora Lykke on Highland street and decided to adopt the name of Onowha.

The house was decorated with pink and white roses and the time was spent sewing and chatting. The hostess served tempting refreshments before her guests departed.

The members are Misses Emma Douglass, Elsie Williams, Hazel Craemer, Elsie Fluor and Nora Lykke. The next meeting will be held with Miss Emma Douglass on Highland street.

The Boy's Clean Security
"Mister, do you lend money here?" asked an earnest young voice at the office door.

The lawyer turned away from his desk, confronted a clear-eyed, poorly dressed lad of 12 years, and studied him keenly for a minute. "Sometimes we do—on good security," he said gravely.

The little fellow explained that he had a chance "to buy out a boy that's cryin' papers." He had half the money required, but he needed to borrow the other 15 cents.

SMITH PROTESTS 10-FRAME FRAY WON 3 TO 2 BY ORANGE NINE

Alleged Infraction of Rules
By Benson Man In Fifth
May Cause New Game

Big George ("Blondy") Morrison is asking everyone to call him "Hard Luck" today by reason of his unlucky defeat at the hands of Coach Benson's Orange high ball tossers last night on the Poly diamond. After a long and hard battle, Morrison's team was defeated by a score of 3 to 2.

Morrison whiffed by rights, eighteen of the citrus men but only gets credit for thirteen, as catcher Holzgrafe, working with a couple of fingers badly wrecked, was unable to hold the final strike. As a matter of fact, Morrison had so much curve yesterday that he was unable to control it, cutting loose with two wild heaves that enabled two visitors to cross the pan. This looked as though "Blondy" lost his own game, but on the other hand, with proper support behind him the men that tallied the runs should never have been on base. That's what we consider about the height of hard luck—pitch a wonderful brand of ball in a big game and then stand by and watch your team-mates muffle every little grounder and uncork wretched throws to the bases.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal. Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

Both of the Santa Ana scores were earned, clean hitting doing the work. As it was expected, both teams hit almost even, the pitching was fairly close and the defense was exactly what counted. The local team was weighed and found wanting. Orange was weighed, was not found wanting and won the game.

Orange was the first to push around a score, accomplishing this little feat in the third fracas. With one away, Potter singled to right and stole second. Farrar whiffed but Holzgrafe missed the last strike and was forced to throw to first, enabling Potter to reach third. Hughes fanned but again the last strike drizzled through Holzgrafe's glove, Potter counting and Hughes reaching first. Keuchel was an easy out.

Neal Raney's speed tied the score in Poly's part of the same round. The speedster was first striker and he pulled a terrific drive to left center, reaching third on an ordinary double. Vanderlip dropped a Texas leaguer in to right, scoring Raney.

Poly took the initiative in the fourth. With one out, down, Potter was safe on Bryan's error and Keuchel's snail and hooked second. Morrison rided a clean drive to right, Burke coming in from second.

The visitors took the initiative again in the fifth. With one down, Potter was safe on Bryan's error and came around on a scratchy infield single that ought to have been an easy out and a wild pitch.

With the score a two to two tie, nothing of importance happened until the beginning of the tenth. Clabby was safe on Vanderlip's wretched throw to Ober and advanced on Potter's neat sacrifice. Clabby stole third and rang the bell on Morrison's second wild pitch.

Despite a bunch of yelling, Smith's set were unable to get to Hinrichs in the last part. Morrison and Raney fanned and Tyrrell fled to Keuchel. The game has been protested by Coach Smith and in all probability it will have to be played over. It seems that in the fifth inning Potter of Orange bunted fairly and then kicked the ball before a local man could get to it. According to the rules, this man is automatically out on such a play but he was allowed, after much dispute, to go to bat again. He got on base and eventually scored a run. With this tally thrown out, Santa Ana would be in the lead, 2 to 1, at the end of the ninth.

ORANGE MEN SEEK ARMY COMMISSIONS

ORANGE, April 26.—A number of local men have made, or will this week make application for admission to the Officers' Reserve Corps, an organization in which officers for the new army are to be trained.

Among those who have made application are A. S. Ralph, H. E. Dierker, Delbert Brunton, L. H. Thompson and W. O. Hart. The first two have applied in the quartermaster and ordnance departments, and the latter three for commissions as officers of the line. If accepted, the latter will be ordered to the presidio training camp which opens May 8th.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off
with Dr. Edwards'
Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

$160,000 DREAM 'BUSTED' BY U. S. COURT JUDGE

County Attorneys Will Not Have to Turn Over Fortunes to Wells

T. Alonzo Wells is not going to live off the interest from $160,000 he expected to collect from the attorneys of Orange county as a bail for alleged libel by the Bar Association of Orange county in its efforts to prevent him from becoming a practicing attorney. His suit against the association was thrown out of court yesterday by Judge Trippett of the Federal court in Los Angeles.

In non-suiting Wells Judge Trippett ruled that the plaintiff's action in bringing the suit was no doubt to intimidate the Orange County Bar Association and prevent it from pushing its charges against him. Wells based his libel charges on letters sent to Justice Chipman of the Third District Court of Appeal at Sacramento and Presiding Justice Northcross of the Nevada Supreme Court by the Bar Association opposing the admission to the bar of Wells.

Judge Trippett held the communications were privileged and that Wells had not shown he was a resident of Nevada, a requisite to maintain an action in the Federal court.

The court said bar associations are very necessary organizations to keep undesirable people from the profession, and in some communities are very active.

In deciding that Wells is a citizen of California, Judge Trippett said that the evidence showed he went to Carson City, Nev., after he had applied on two different occasions for admission in July, 1915, and on the following October 4, was admitted to practice by the Supreme court of Nevada, upon his declaration that he intended making Nevada his home. The license was issued October 8, six days later he went to Placerville, Cal., and on October 20 was admitted on motion before the Third Appellate Court in Sacramento; on November 4 he published his card in the Huntington Beach News, offering himself as an attorney.

While in Nevada, Wells never had voted, paid no taxes, had not registered, and his name was in no city or telephone directory. But thirty days intervened from the issuance of his certificate to practice in Nevada, until he published his card in Huntington Beach, and the newspaper in which the card appeared announced he had just returned from a six-months' vacation.

Judge Trippett said some of the charges against Wells in the communications complained of were not true, but he could find no malice in the letters, only a desire to rid the profession of a man whom the defendants thought unworthy. The Bar association of Orange county acted in good faith, in the opinion of the court. Wells had failed to show that at the time he filed the action against the defendants, September 30, 1916, he was a resident of Nevada, therefore the court had no jurisdiction.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, April 26.—Mrs. Fred Klauer was guest of honor at a luncheon shower given by Miss Lola Klauer at her home, 349 South Olive street.

Pretty house decorations of pink hearts, cupid and roses added charm to the occasion. Progressive whist was played, first prize being won by Miss Serena Jacobson and the consolation by Miss Viola Truempler. There was also delightful piano music and singing. Refreshments of home made cake, home made candy and cherry sundaes were served. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Oscar Gunther, Mrs. Paul Struck and Miss Serena Jacobson.

Those present were: Mmes. Fred Klauer, Oscar Gunther, Oscar Leichtfuss, Oscar Ristow, Albert Struck, Paul Struck, and the Misses Alma and Edna Wyneken, Nell and Irene Weseloh, Minnie Grote, Henney Hollenbeck of Fresno, Leona Blank, Anna Eliste, Hertha Ehlen, Clara Burre, Esther Battermann, Hulda and Gretchen Walther, Lena Clough, Esther Dierker, Elizabeth Blank, Viola Truempler, Esther and Serena Jacobson, Lola, Ella and Gertrude Klauer.

Enjoying an evening at Balboa, catching grunion in the surf, a local party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rankin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, Henry Meehan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mrs. W. H. Wood and son Willie were here from Pasadena as guests at the A. B. Tiffany home.

S. E. Stanfield and family left today for Colorado, where they will locate on a homestead.

Having the distinction of shipping the first string beans of the season, G. G. Williamson, of Villa Park, is already sending consignments of that valuable produce to the market. He has shipped 400 pounds of the beans so far, at a remarkable price of 30 cents a pound.

Mr. Williamson's crop is about two weeks ahead of anything else in the county—a fact which is significant of the Villa Park district's warmth and its real worth as a frostless belt for early vegetables.

The beans were planted January 17, at a time when the frost would get them if there had been any frost in that district. A big yield has been received and Mr. Williamson is marketing about 100 or 200 pounds every day.

FULLERTON OIL YIELD 47,500 BARRELS DAY

FULLERTON, April 26.—The local oil field now has seventy-three wells drilling. No wells have been abandoned during the past month. The local field now has 673 producing wells, making 47,500 barrels a day, and yielding a monthly production of one million four hundred barrels.

The oil business is one that has not suffered thus far from the effects of the war. The struggle cannot be carried on without petroleum. Oil is as necessary as bread and explosives in modern warfare, California in the past has supplied a very liberal portion of the world's oil supply, and the allies will continue to look to us for the necessary fuel oil and gasoline. It is a known fact that the oil producing areas of California have not produced as much oil during the past year as formerly, that there is a shortage of some 40,000 barrels daily and that at the very opening of American's movement toward entering the war the oil supply of this state is close to nothing. The situation calls for immediate action on the part of the operators, and to prove that the oil men of the local field are cognizant of the condition now existing they have seemingly launched a great development campaign. This week's survey of the oil companies operating in the local field show a renewed activity has spread throughout the entire field.

While the pipe and steel material situation is still a matter of concern, the Standard Oil Company reports the coming in of needed supplies and is able to proceed with all work outlined. There is a concerted feeling among oil men that the government will readily see the seriousness of the pipe situation and take measures to induce the mills to devote their attention to the manufacture and shipment of the necessary pipe and oil well materials to this and other fields.

Says Corn Rings, Plasters, Razor and Eating Salves Are Taboo Now

—Good things should be passed along. It is now said that a few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness and soon the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out without pain.

For a little cost a quarter of an ounce of freezone can be obtained from any drug store which is claimed to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This is a drug recently announced from Cincinnati. It is gummy but dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the healthy tissue or skin.

QUICK RESULTS SECURED BY DRAINAGE

Celery Plants Are Growing
Fast and Are In Excellent Condition

TALBERT, April 25.—The old canal by the Rice ranch, from which all the water was turned into the joint Talbert-Newport ditch at its completion, is now thoroughly dried out and is being plowed and filled in. Willows and underbrush had about taken the strip of land adjoining it and in a short time would have been in the condition all the land adjoining the river was a few years ago. The land is now drained out so thoroughly that the water has gone down four feet in the ditch where a few weeks ago it was full and the land flooded.

The ranchers who have been the losers by the past condition are more than pleased with the quick results gained by the new ditch.

Mrs. Antone Carrilli, who was a visitor for the week at the Frank Carrilli home, has returned to Los Angeles.

Frank Carrilli was taken quite ill Tuesday and is confined to his bed.

Fast progress is being made by the river dredger, which is now one-half mile below the Meyers road. The channel will be dug out the entire distance to the ocean.

Dan Thompson took his well risks to Artesia, Wednesday, where he will bore a well northeast of the town. Sam Talbert's teams moved the rigs from here.

The celery plants are growing fast and looking fine. The beds are now being weeded.

Re-surfacing of the road through town began Tuesday. An extra heavy coat of the oil and gravel is being put on preparatory for the hauling season. The oil is brought from Santa Ana and the county truck is hauling the gravel.

A bridge was put in over the canal for the Willow Land and Water Company last Saturday.

S. E. Talbert began harvesting his grain crop at Paulerino Monday. Tuesday he had three mowers and two rakes in the field and these will be kept busy until the 500 acres now in condition to cut is harvested.

The majority of the Japanese ranchers of this district met at the Japanese hall last Sunday evening to talk over the advisability of joining the beat growers' association. Davis, a director of the association, from San Fernando, was present to talk the matter over with them. The majority of those present signified their willingness to become members.

A half-mile of private ditch was dug for W. T. Newland by the Talbert dredger last week, the work being completed Saturday. The ditch is a fourth of a mile north of the Newland road running west and forms an outlet for some springs on the Newland ranch that he wants to drain that had no possible outlet. The ditch connects with No. 5 of the district ditches.

The crew that has been steadily employed on the Talbert ditches for some time, have been laid off. These men are now employed by L. D. Callens, hoeing beets.

HANDLE CABBAGE CROP
FULLERTON, April 26.—The Benchley Fruit Company has closed a contract to handle the entire cabbage crop of Pierre Nicolas. Duke Osborne is also lining up other growers for moving their output. Cabbages are now worth $100 a ton; a few years ago this product was selling here at less than $20 a ton.

"Southern Prepared Paint"
Is the best for professional painter as well as amateur, because:

1. It contains only the best materials, selected as only an experienced and honorable maker can do.
2. White Lead as sold today, alone with Linseed Oil, makes a fugitive paint. It will decay and disintegrate rapidly.
3. "Southern Prepared Paint" has been made from the beginning to give better results than are possible otherwise. It must not be associated with cheap imitations and "special" mixtures.
4. It is mixed and ground by machinery better than it is possible for any one to do by hand.
5. It is made by a reputable manufacturer. It is therefore no experiment, and you take no risk in using it.

The fresh vegetable market is showing an easier tendency of late, and a number of new varieties are now to be had at fairly reasonable prices, considering the high level of all foodstuffs. Thus green string and wax beans can be secured for 25 cents a pound, and eggplant is bringing the same figure. Tomatoes are becoming more plentiful, as shipments from Mexico are picking up. However, prices for that vegetable have so far held firm. Summer squash is steadily declining, and the best grades were offered yesterday for $1.50 a crate. Root vegetables have not dropped much in value, as supplies of the same are rather short.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, April 26.—Three heavyweight wrestlers, peevish by the claims and counter claims of each other, are forming themselves into another species of the old "eternal" triangle and the world's heavyweight wrestling title is in the balance. Stecher to Olin to Caddock is the general drift of the argument, but Stecher's chirps are cutting very little figure in the affair.

The general trend of the effort is to find out just who did throw Joe Stecher, the Nebraska marvel, or who did make him quit, and who should get the credit.

"I did it first," is the wild contention of John Olin of Worcester, Mass., who made the Nebraska leave the ring during a match in Springfield, Mass. "But I did it last, and so far as I care, first," pipes Earl Caddock, the Iowa phenom and favorite of Frank Gotch, undefeated holder of the world's title.

From a long distance it appears that Olin and Caddock, both having claims to a victory over Stecher, should meet and have it out now, but Stecher here inserts a line for which he has no cue.

"Neither of 'em did it," he avers. So far as the public is concerned Stecher might just as well remain silent, for he will have to pin the shoulders of each of these men to a mat before he will again be a calcium-baked idol. Olin is matched to battle it out with "Strangler" Lewis, the Kentucky strong man, on May 2. Lewis, in a meeting with Stecher several years ago, forced the Nebraska to extend himself to the utmost. The first went two hours without a decision and the second extended over five hours without a fall.

After Olin and Lewis have their little tiff over it might be worth while to match the winner with Caddock and have the argument settled. A bona fide claim to the championship, such as it is, could be established.

FREE GRAZING LAND, IS PLAN AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, April 26.—Four million acres of land in Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota will be offered free for grazing to farmers and stockmen of the middle west in the hope of re-leasing farm land for raising war crops.

The St. Paul association is compiling the list which will be given widest publicity in an attempt to get the stockmen to use this land and release more fertile land for crops.

Farmers owning only small herds would organize, send a representative to select a tract of grazing land, and ship their herds to be cared for by a herder. Community action of this kind would be an economy to farmers and would increase materially, it was pointed out.

SCARED CHICKEN THIEF GIVEN SIX MONTHS

Bang! Mexican Drops On His Face Till Irate Rancher Reaches Him

A scared-to-death Mexican went into the county jail this morning to serve a six-months' sentence.

He was still two-thirds sick from a fright he received last night when a Buena Park rancher fired a load of bird shot close to his head.

Jesus Siero to his name. Edwin Martin, poultryman of Buena Park, is the man who captured Siero. About once a month for some months past someone has been going into Martin's yards, where he houses about 1500 chickens, and he estimates that no less than forty-five chickens have disappeared. Martin slept on the porch, and the sound of a chicken's squawk got him out of bed this morning about 3 o'clock.

With shotgun in hand, Martin slipped around behind a row of chicken houses, and he spotted his Mexican. The man had broken a hole in the wire and was reaching up into the house for another chicken. Three had been killed and put in a sack.

"I've got you," shouted Martin, leveling his shotgun.

"What do you want?" asked the Mexican.

Martin was fifty feet away, and could have killed the man. He did not want to shoot him, even if he ran. Just to put the fear of shrapnel into the heart, Martin let fly with a load of bird shot, and Siero dropped flat on his face.

Martin approached with a flashlight, and took possession of Mexican and chickens.

The chickens were dead, and the Mexican was so badly scared he could hardly stand. He fairly wobbled with fright.

Martin got Under Sheriff Iman on the telephone, and Iman put the man in jail.

This morning Siero was before Justice Cox. He was still wobbly.

A sentence of six months in jail did not seem to act as a tonic. Siero departed still bearing a sick look. He is about 21 years old.

Martin stated that poultry stealing has been conducted quite freely in the Buena Park district. Recently Corliss Mann lost a dozen turkeys.

Merchant's Wife Advises

Santa Ana Women

"I had stomach trouble so bad I could eat nothing but toast, fruit and hot water. Everything else soured and formed gas. Dieting did no good. I was miserable until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Eka. ONE SPOONFUL benefited me INSTANTLY." Because Adler-Eka empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICK-EST action of anything we ever sold. I.O.O.F. MEMBERS OBSERVE LODGE NATAL DAY

Many members of Santa Ana Canton, I. O. O. F., are in Pomona today, with Cantons from other Orange county cities, celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the lodge.

At Pomona today lodges from many cities in Southern California are represented by Cantons. A program of speeches and other features is being carried out. The day's events were scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock this morning.

Anaheim lodge of the I. O. O. F. had in charge today a picnic given at Orange County Park. This picnic was for the lodge members not belonging to the Cantons. A number of Santa Anans are at the park, enjoying the picnic.

ICING PLANT TO COST $100,000 AUTHORIZED BY GROWERS

Santiago Orange Growers' Association to Install Equip- ment At Orange

An up-to-date pre-cooling plant to cost about $100,000 is to be built by the Santiago Orange Growers' Association, placing this association right along side of other similar organizations that have taken this advance step.

Growers of the association have given their hearty approval to the plan by the signing of a referendum petition authorizing the directors to encumber the organization for the amount necessary to erect the plant.

The association owns a five-acre site on West Palm avenue, adjoining the Santa Fe tracks, and it is here that the icing plant will be constructed.

LUCE BILL ROUNDING WEINSTOCK VICTORY NOW UP TO STEPHENS

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Luce's bill which broadens the duties and powers of the state market director is up to the governor for signature today, having passed the assembly, 58 to 18. This vote rounds out a sweeping victory for market director Weinstock whose methods had been assailed.

The San Francisco normal school fight is nearing a compromise through the adoption of an amendment to have the site selected by the state board of control.

The bill raising Insurance Secretary McCabe's salary from $4,000 to $6,000 a year met some opposition in the senate, but was passed.

HAD TROUBLE FOUR OR FIVE YEARS

No one appreciates good health like those who are ill. W. J. Furry, R. F. D. 2, Salem, Mo., writes: "I have been bothered with bladder trouble four or five years. It gave me a great deal of pain. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good until I got Foley Kidney Pills." Many persons suffer from kidney and bladder trouble when they can be relieved. Backache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, stiff or sore joints and other symptoms yield to Foley Kidney Pills. Rowley Drug Co.

QUAKERS GET PERMITS TO CARRY REVOLVERS

NEW YORK, April 26.—Thomas Wright, 70, of Auburndale, and Frederick Smart, 71, of Jamaica avenue Flushing, both Quakers, have been granted permits to carry revolvers by Magistrate Fitch in the Flushing police court.

Mr. Wright and Mr. Smart did not swear to the contents of the affidavit, that being against their religion. They affirmed they were true, however. Both men stated they wanted the revolvers in their homes for protection.

THE LAST STRAW

Wundel—Cold? Not a bit of it. Why, I remember last Christmas, when I was in California, the steam from a passing engine froze hard and fell on the line in sheets!

Smyler—That's nothing. In 1889 the electricity in our telephone exchange got frozen, and when the thaw came along all the machines talked as hard as they could for six hours.

Chansit—The coldest Christmas I can remember was in '84, when the policemen had to run to keep themselves warm.

Silently the last speaker was awarded the palm.

BAD COLDS FROM SUDDEN CHANGES—Spring brings all kinds of weather and with it come colds and the revival of winter coughs and hoarseness. MARSHAL LANDS BEAN THIEF IN JAIL

E. Pamazaina's disregard for the high price of beans this morning led to his arrest as a bean thief. He is believed to be the man who stole a sack of beans from the storehouse of C. C. Schultz, 403 Grand avenue, about a week ago. He is now in jail.

Dunlap Wilson, of the Walter Moore store, telephoned City Marshal Jernigan early this morning that a Mexican had been to the store with a sack of beans, offering to take a very low price for a half a sack which he said he had at home.

Jernigan got busy and spotted the man as he entered a number of stores in efforts to dispose of his product.

Finally he struck up a deal with a local grocer and went to a point on the Santa Fe tracks south of the Chestnut street crossing and got the half sack. As he was returning to town with it the Marshal picked him up. He told conflicting stories as to how he came into possession of them.

Our New Location and Our Policy

In our new location—just a few doors east of Fourth and Main—we have had built for us a shoe store second to none this side of Los Angeles. In the matter of speedy, efficient service, we believe the arrangement in our new store permits of an even wider, more generous service than you could secure in Los Angeles or San Francisco. In our new location we shall aim to sell you shoes that, in style, will be just a little finer; that, in fit, will be just a bit more perfect; that, in wear, will a little more than outlast your expectations.

Our shoes and our service will be just a little ahead in the march of progress.

You are invited to inspect our new location.

WANT WATCH PUT UPON COCKLES AT ANAHEIM LANDING

Petitioners Say Italians Are Cleaning Out the Tooth- some Supply

According to a letter written to the Board of Supervisors, Italians from Los Angeles are cleaning Anaheim Bay of cockles. The letter states that every Saturday and Sunday the Italians descend upon the beds, and carry away all they can rake out. It is stated that the beds are being so badly depleted that it is only at very low tide that cockles can be had.

There is a county ordinance that makes it a misdemeanor for any person to have over twenty-five pounds of cockles in his possession. The petitioners ask the supervisors to put an officer on the job to stop the devastation of the cockle beds.

For Divorce

Suit for divorce has been brought by Chrystal E. Ford against John T. Ford. A Los Angeles attorney represents the plaintiff.

Seeking Permit

The S. A. V. I. Co. has asked the Board of Supervisors for permission to lay a 12-inch concrete pipeline across Newport road a quarter of a mile southeast of the Santa Fe crossing.

Naturalization Day

FULLERTON SEES BANNER YEAR FOR WALNUTS

FULLERTON, April 26—Though too early to tell what proportions the walnut crop will attain, growers and shippers in this district are unanimous in the prediction that this will be a banner year.

The walnuts have set in clusters of two and three and clusters of four are well scattered over the trees. This year, perhaps to a more pronounced degree than in recent seasons, the foliage on the trees in this district is uniform and the nuts are all at about the same state of development.

Fungus, which is largely responsible for the June dropping, is practically absent from the orchards.

Forecasts that the crop would be average this year on account of a cold snap early in the season that proved injurious to the young walnuts on the lower limbs of the trees, are proving to be unwarranted. It is likely that a part of the crop was damaged, but the percentage is so slight that it will work no material reduction on the season's output.

What the price will be this year no one can tell. The association does not set it until September.

The price last year was set at 15½ cents, netting the growers approximately 14 cents.

The New Worthmor Waists Are Here

—The new Worthmor Waists are here—and there's value added to good value in every one of them. They just came in by fast express. The styles are delightfully pretty—new—modish, distinctive—created just a few days ago by designers in constant touch with style evolution.

D5—Charmingly simple model. Material is a beautifully checked Organdie, an excellent fabric. Large collar, cuffs and vest of plain Organdie. Collar outlined with pretty ruffle, affording an extremely youthful effect. Large ocean pearl buttons for fastening.

D7—A model everybody will like, for its decidedly neat and likeable style. Embroidered dots on front and collar in graduated sizes, and as neatly worked as if done by hand. Large collar and front further trimmed with hemstitching. Turn back cuffs. Very good Voile.

D6—Somewhat more ornate than the other three styles in this set, yet a very pretty, pleasing style. Large shawl collar, outlined with dainty Val. Net reverses with matching lace. Lace and clusters of fine tucks trim front. Made of soft, sheer, durable Voile.

D8—Un-ordinary is the word that best describes this blouse, and while unusual in style, is decidedly appealing. Broad lateral tuck defined with hemstitching extends across lower part of bodice. Further trimmed with pretty St. Gall embroidery, and dainty tucks. Made of excellent Batiste, serviceable as well as slightly.

—No other dollar waist can be like the Worthmor, for no other dollar waist is made and sold in the economical way.
